

OLIVIA'S LOOKOUT

Fundraiser to Benefit the Lower Bucks County Chamber of Commerce

Joan Weiss was a wonderful friend to our Chamber and to many of our members. She passed away last year and is missed by all who knew her.

Joan Weiss

As a professor of business for 25 years at Bucks County Community College, Joan was an extraordinary person who made a difference in the lives of so many of her students and colleagues. Her passion was to help bring college students closer to the world of business.

Joan was active in many organizations including the Chamber. She chaired the Percolator Committee for several years and was active in many others.

She and her Students in Free Enterprise students helped in so many ways through the years, volunteering at numerous events and serving as goodwill ambassadors.

Among her many talents, Joan was an artist who created many beautiful scenes. She worked primarily with oil and had only recently begun to work with watercolors. One of her most beautiful creations is "Olivia's Lookout" which she created in the summer of 2007 while on vacation in the Berkshire Mountains in Massachusetts. Joan's passion for life is evident in the muted brushstrokes and soft colors that capture this moment in time.

The Chamber is now offering this beautiful painting created by Joan Weiss exclusively through Whispering Woods Gallery. Olivia's Lookout is a limited edition print, individually produced on the finest German etching paper using special archival inks.

We hope that you will join us in honoring our friend Joan Weiss' legacy by participating in this fundraiser.
